BEFORE WE START

There's no dev.

There's no team.

There are just you and me.

That's something I consider quite important for everyone to understand.
Especially for the people coming from the Telegram crypto space.

Read and fully understand the whitepaper before you continue reading "Marketing Magic".

WHY TEAMS OR „TEAMS“ DON'T ACHIEVE (BIG) SUCCESS

Chungalunga is started by me, skool, with the intention to get involved amazing people in bringing this coin to the mainstream – the ones who share the same vision as me, the ones who are patient, the ones with positive attitudes, and proactive people who fully understand that even 5 minutes per day in helping one project grow is time spent way better and brings much more value for themselves, instead of scrolling endlessly on Telegram, Twitter or watching YouTube crypto videos which mostly don't bring you anything good (from a financial perspective).

Still, nowadays too many people believe that some team, or even one person, will bring their project „to the moon“ and make them serious money.

I'm still wondering how many people are naive in this space...?

Even if the team has good intentions they rarely can make one project successful enough for you to improve your financial future for good (both price-wise and counting the number of people who will use their services).

Members of the teams in the crypto space are rarely (well) immersed in building businesses and especially not in marketing activities.

And nowadays, „teams“ often create projects just for their own benefit, so they can buy first, for the cheap, then they use „marketing“ in the form of „callers“, which sometimes are their friends, and then use new buyers as their „exit liquidity“, meaning they will capitalize selling to those new buyers and move to create another project. They don't care about getting to a high market cap and staying there. Meaning, most of those projects die very quickly.

Sad thing is – most investors will never figure that out.

Besides that, how many projects have ended up in the even Top 100 projects on CoinMarketCap where their team did all or most of the work regarding the marketing of that project?

Hm... One? Two? None?

The reality is that those projects who have teams or „teams“ to „push“ that project will not achieve huge success. And often no success is possible to achieve because that component of a strong community is missing.

I'm one person.

The one who started this story – a story where we already know that Chungalunga is a \$2 billion market cap project.

I can't do much without enough amazing people getting in early enough and making a solid base to get thousands of people to the Chungalunga coin.

It's almost impossible.

You see, how things work in crypto is that ONLY STRONG AND COORDINATED community actions can bring project to the mainstream and make it one of the biggest projects.

I'm here to start the fire.

And do some of the actions from below to help you, our family members, mostly after a firm foundation has been set up.

And NONE OF THOSE things can bring any proper result in the crypto space until we have solid foundations. One of them is a solid number of investors/supporters who are helping out spreading the word. A proactive and loud community is what I'm after in the beginning, as one of the most critical steps in building something meaningful in crypto.

FAMILY FIRST – 100 VISIONARIES

That's why the first goal is to get 100+ daily active visionaries to our family.

Much more important than getting thousands of, usually passive, investors and building the hype with unimportant announcements or non-efficient "marketing" actions.

That wouldn't stick for a long time.

This means the first goal is to have 100+ magnificent people who will be active daily in spreading the word about us in several specific and quite easy ways. One hundred people, with small, well-planned actions will do more effective push than thousands of non-directed shillers, influencers, or any „team“ out there could do. One hundred people who are aware they can make life-changing money this way, with just one project, even during the bear market.

The best approach is to get proactive people together, who invest in project while the market cap is on the low end, and then stay around sharing the same vision, and helping about at least a bit.

I'm looking for people who are at a level of awareness where they understand that even 5-10 minutes of spreading the word daily about the project they invested in, is much better than:

- waiting for calls from different channels and „ape“-ing in whatever they post
- reading countless messages in dozen of Telegram groups they are in, while usually not participating in the group, nor connecting with other members, or helping them in any way
- waiting for someone else to give them „alpha“ so they finally can make a few dollars or make up for lost investments
- jumping on every notification from Twitter and scrolling endlessly through tweets, not knowing after 2 minutes what they have started to read in the first place
- watching long-ish Youtube videos that will not help them directly in making it big in the crypto space
- or anything in between.

The truth is – the ones who succeed in crypto are either very well connected, so they know enough inside info or the ones who get engaged in helping to spread the word about the project while investing early enough.

Here, at Chungalunga, we are first getting together extraordinary individuals who will be active daily and become the core of the whole project.

Plus, since they are part of our family, the most important info will be shared between those members first in our Discord.

Don't forget: this process should be fun, stress-free and effortless. We're here to have a great time, one worth remembering, where most of our members will be able to fulfill their desires while manifesting and working on Chungalunga's success.

An important thing to notice – most of the crypto investors are buying coins/tokens only when the price starts going up. When there are green lines.

When FOMO (Fear of Missing Out) is activated.

They don't buy when the price is stagnant, nor do they invest in low-cap projects, like CL is at the moment because they need a lot of reassurance it's something good; they usually follow what other people are doing.

And when they see a lot of other buys coming in, they are only then ready to buy.

It's a fascinating part of human nature, and it's easy to see why few people get rich (or wealthy) in crypto.

By knowing that, one a bit more experienced can easily see why that will work great for our Chungalunga family members:

early investors and helpful family members will have the biggest advantage, and they'll make significant gains on a small investment and for a small investment of time in helping CL grow.

And that's why I suggest these strategies below:

first, we become omnipresent on big social networks (it's easy nowadays, especially with our first supporters, our members), and then I'll make sure that everyone significant in the Telegram crypto space is noticed about us, so they will start investing in parallel as the hype around CL grows and more mainstream people start buying CL.

Don't forget what moves all crypto projects forward – it's purely hype. Nothing else.

Read more in a dedicated chapter about it.

DISCORD

Because of that we have a server for our holders and active members on Discord.

It's a much better platform comparing it to Telegram group for this kind of approach.

We want our members to become best friends in the following weeks/months, to have a healthy and uplifting atmosphere where we will help each other in different ways, and organize much better in specific actions of promoting the Chungalunga to the (mainstream) investors.

Passive people don't make much progress in crypto, especially when there's no bull run.

The hard truth for many to swallow, but people generally can't help their innate passivity, so they will stick with their (unhealthy, often gambling) habits for many years to come or for good.

I don't want those people early in Chungalunga. They will be good to invest later on when when we will need more trading volume.

Hence the experiment (mentioned in the whitepaper).

Find the link for our Discord server on the website:

<https://www.chungalungacoin.com/>

Everyone in crypto will know about Chungalunga coin (CL) at some point.

That's the vision we have.

It will be easy to manifest this vision in reality when the best community (family) is formed.

ORGANIC TIKTOK GAME

In 2021. and 2022. TikTok was one of the social networks where many mainstream crypto investors have spent their time.

Today, they are still on that platform, and the number of people who promote different projects is less, which works to our advantage.

Since TikTok has the most encouraging algorithms at this time, it's easy to gain massive exposure with your videos. Easy and free.

I'm studying their algorithm and learning from successful people in that area.

One of the easiest ways we will achieve big wins on TT is that you, our family members, and other supporters will promote CL with simple videos on TT while having a lot of fun.

There will be help from my side on what the subjects of videos could/should be and how to approach the marketing of CL on TikTok, what to tell, what could be CTA (Call To Action) and so on.

In the end, many of our members will promote Chungalunga almost daily, so our enormous success with a carefully thought out strategy is not questionable.

This way, we will attract not only existing crypto investors – we will get many new people to the crypto for the first time, those who find our videos engaging, and when they see a healthy and fun community built around Chungalunga, they will stay and support us.

Later on, many of you and many new members will see what else good exposure to the TikTok audience can bring you, and I'm confident you will utilize TT to promote CL even more, and maybe yourself as a brand, besides many other things you could use this free traffic source for. That's why we will share some great info and advice in our Discord server between our members while our members get more and more connected on a friendly basis and get interested even more in becoming mega-successful in crypto or even beyond it.

TIKTOKERS JOINING CHUNGALUNGA FAMILY

Content creators on TikTok are paid for uploading videos, the same as creators on YouTube, but with one big difference – creators on TikTok get approximately 100x-1000x less money.

That's why we can help them with Chungalunga, and in return, they will help CL to become one of the most used and talked-about cryptocurrencies while making (a lot of) money in the process.

Many creators will find out about CL directly on TikTok by seeing the videos from our members who already talk about the CL – which will help us to get new people to the project.

PROVIDING USE CASE FOR CREATORS ON TIKTOK

With time we will provide a way for creators to simply put a link in their bio where their followers can donate CL to them quickly and easily.

Some Chungalunga family members and I will contact as many Tiktokers as possible and get some of them involved in promoting Chungalunga on TikTok.

It could be a long process, yet there are tens of thousands of potential CL partners, so I'm confident we will quickly get the first 50-100 people in the early stage who will share our vision and help us become a mainstream success. Which is more than enough to start the snowball effect.

TikTok has mainly a younger audience, and most of them will be introduced to the crypto for the first time through the Chungalunga coin, and how it usually goes – they will stick to it.

And because they can make money (through donations or selling something for the CL), this way, they will promote it even harder.

It's a win-win situation for everyone, and one of the additional reasons is that younger people can't get debit or credit cards in many countries.

But, they will be able to spend CL later in different online shops (read the „Ecom central“ chapter in the whitepaper) or simply exchange it for another cryptocurrency if they want.

With this approach, it's easily possible that Chungalunga will become „the currency of Tiktokers“.

With many people filming engaging videos, showing how to purchase CL, and with other steps (which will be suggested in our Discord), we can achieve a viral effect while making many of our early supporters into TikTok crypto millionaires.

A lot of followers are usually inspired by their role models, so they often film similar content.

Considering that, it's easy to see that after the first strategic approaches to TT, Chungalunga coin can easily become widely popular in many countries worldwide.

TIKTOK FUND - $1.000.000 (plus $$ and other rewards)

Several of us have bought enough Chungalunga coins for this fund, which will be worth $1.000.000 when we get to the market cap of $100 million, which is not that hard to achieve.

It's just 5% of our goal of a $2 billion market cap.

1. $1 million fund

At that point, we will give away coins from this fund to the people who published videos on TikTok about Chungalunga in the weeks/days prior to achieving that step of our goal – getting at the $100 million market cap.

There will be no specific requirements for this:

if you have a TikTok account or can create one, then you are good to go.

This fund is our way of thanking everyone who participates in putting the word out about CL, especially to those people who found out about us when we were close to the $100 million market cap and hadn't invested before that moment (those who invested before that are in a great position at this moment, and they've profited very well from their investment and actions).

These coins will be given away to our Chungalunga family members who posted at least three videos about Chungalunga coin in total, no matter if you have any CL coins or not.

The minimum amount one person will get in CL will be probably at least $1.000,00. while the max amount will be close to $10.000,00 or even higher for exceptional results/numbers of views.

This process will be described in detail in our special Discord server for this purpose.

Sign up using this form below to get in touch:

<https://forms.gle/YFotSsm5CjhcMxy16>

Sign up now, even before publishing any video about CL.

As it usually goes, rewarding people this way could go viral, especially on a social network like TikTok.

That alone could give us great exposure and a significant boost in growing the Chungalunga coin in any possible way, making every participant satisfied (while encouraging many more users to join our mission).

2. PORSCHE TAYCAN + TESLA MODEL S

There will be additional rewards; some of the most prominent ones are these two cars.

All info about that will be on our Discord server.

Follow the steps on this link and join Chungalunga family:

<https://forms.gle/YFotSsm5CjhcMxy16>

NOTE:

There will be even better/higher rewards for everyone who will be included in this process. For now, it will be a secret, and only the members who sign up by following the link above and get to our Discord server will find out about it and be able to participate for much bigger rewards.

I'm confident this will be a life-changing opportunity for many people included.

Magical four – TikTok + Twitter + YT Shorts + IG reels

Since Tiktok gained fame with its algorithm, which allows even completely new accounts to become popular quickly, other companies have, in a way, copied that approach, and today we have YouTube Shorts and Instagram reels with a similar algorithm as TikTok.

This means that influencers don't have much significance on TikTok (and that's spreading on Instagram and YouTube now), and every single TikTok user could have a viral video(s) without much effort.

That's why we are using this to our advantage, properly rewarding our Chungalunga family members, and we'll see many of them becoming multimillionaires. Meaning, influencers or users with a larger amount of followers are not needed anymore at this point, which is magnificent.

TikTok dreams of many tokers will be achieved, maybe in a way they haven't expected, but hey – we're all about manifesting our desires here at Chungalunga. Nothing is impossible for us and the Universe works in magical ways.

It's much better for the Chungalunga family that people with smaller accounts get rewarded properly in crypto, instead of waiting for some sponsorship deal, which might never come in today's age. They'll grow their following fast just by uploading even simple videos because there is still a small number of creators on the platform; most of them are consumers.

Because of these changes in algorithms on main social networks, our family members will be incentivized to use the same video made for Tiktok on Twitter, Youtube, and Instagram as well.

Twitter is the platform where most crypto investors are, next to Telegram.

With this well-rounded strategy, we will easily gain the attention of all existing crypto investors and get many first-time investors.

With one move, we're covering all these big social networks.

Chungalunga coin = mainstream coin.

MASS TELEGRAM DMing

The beautiful thing about the Telegram crypto space is that there are hundreds of thousands of crypto investors across many different groups.

It's easy to reach them directly by sending a direct message(s). It's one of the fastest ways to inform the best audience and one of the cheapest, comparing it with other paid ways of promotion in the crypto space.

This will work well, especially after we start getting traction on social networks like TikTok, because regular investors who are mainly on Telegram and Twitter, most of the time buy only when the price is increasing quickly. They are not known for buying when the price is at rest or when there is not enough hype.

New investors, coming from social networks, will probably start buying first.

With this approach, where we first get mainstream investors to our Chungalunga family, I will ensure that investors across many solid Telegram groups find out about us when that starts to happen. Then those wiser among them will start investing and get their friends. With this approach, we'll become unstoppable, and CL price will continue to increase faster and faster, especially when our members will be getting millions of views on their videos on TikTok.

Direct advertising has been popular (and successful) for a very long time.

Plus, with decent copywriting skills, and other people helping out (having strong marketing background; not „crypto marketing“) our mass DMing campaigns are one of the ways we will achieve high enough success in getting strong members to form a solid base for the mega-successful project.

Every targeted Telegram member will hear multiple times about us. In one way or another.

"Targeted?"

That means carefully picking people who will be DM'd about CL. Potentially best possible investors who will be joining us and helping grow the Chungalunga coin. The ones who are already involved in other good and long-standing projects. People from all over the world.

The active members from the Telegram groups of those types of projects. The ones who actually want to succeed in crypto.

We'll send them to our website, Telegram, and other destinations so that they can decide for themselves if the Chungalunga coin is a project for them.

It's not that we will send only one message to one person, and especially NOT the type of messages you have been seeing by now in your inbox.

Most of them that you have seen by now for promoting some other projects, if not all, are pretty bad (and I'm being polite here).

I know how to find the best-targeted audience and where, and send them multiple messages that get attention.

How many times do you see ads for the same product on TV?

Or how many times have you seen ads for the same stuff in your Facebook feed (or anywhere else for that matter)?

That's proper advertising on a big scale, with some retargeting in the mix.

And it's the best way to achieve specific goals in advertising.

That's why we will DM so many people, multiple times until they finally check out the Chungalunga coin (and join us if they love the idea where we are becoming one of the most popular and widely used coins out there).

The great thing is that we can and will target all active people from all significant crypto groups and crypto projects (founders and others), whether in China, South Korea, Japan, Brazil, Turkey, the USA, or any other country where crypto is represented significantly.

Power of direct advertising + branding in full blossom.

Many crypto investors, mostly those who entered the scene after the Spring of 2021., can't recognize the power of something like mass DMing.

Those guys are too used to call channels on Telegram and Twitter influencers.

At the moment, a limited number of people in the whole TG crypto space follow carefully call channels, and those guys are the ones who mainly chase small profits (at least nowadays). And the power of call channels is declining fast, especially now in a bear market. They simply can't bring anymore any significant volume.

I'm expecting most of those channels will lose their influence even more with time, and 80+% of them to cease to exist.

With DMing, we will cover every single person which could be an amazing Chungalunga family member, and get them to pay attention to us.

Possibilities are limitless.

In the past, there were so many different places and platforms where we discussed everything related to crypto. Things are changing in this area all the time, and I feel we will be the first project who will utilize mass DMing on such a big scale. Literally, millions of DMs will be sent.

After us, many other projects will follow the same path when they see what's possible to achieve when they see what we have accomplished and how much cheaper it is compared to paying „influencers“ or using another (paid) way of promotion, which was never a way to achieve biggest success (it's just a way to fill „influencers“ pockets).

It's good sometimes to be the first one.

I expect significant growth in the number of active members with this in the first months.

Additional tactic - besides all crypto groups on Telegram, there are a lot of other groups based on so many different topics.

Since CL is a cryptocurrency, it will be easy to get many other people who are not yet in crypto.

With this strategy, mass DMing, we will reach many of those people in groups where they talk about NWO, anti-CBDC, and similar (read our whitepaper first if you don't understand the best possible investors who would love to join Chungalunga) after we get all interested people from all crypto groups and projects.

I believe that we are the first project that will do something like that.

To get funds to pay for this campaign small fee (part of a Treasury wallet) will be taken directly in ETH from the fee during the first months before we remove the tax completely at some point. Another part of the fee will go to the LP (liquidity pool) to stabilize the project even more (more info in our Telegram channel).

Carefully written and structured copy (mostly in well-thought and written sequence) will attract thousands of people to our Telegram channel, and then on to our website and other socials.

Success is inevitable.

OTHER METHODS

I have several more amazing approaches on my mind at the moment where our family can make a great move forward with organized efforts.

And as it usually goes, I will have many more with time.

It's not wise to mention them here because:

1. I want to surprise our best and long-standing members at some point in the future
2. I want to get rid of "paper hands" and other people who can't hold long enough, the ones who are here just for their quick gains in ETH (not comprehending that CL will be at some point used for purchases on the ecom platform where all types of digital and physical items will be sold, all over the world; those are mostly Telegram people)
3. it's not possible to execute those methods until we gather a quite significant "army" of Chungalungas who will continue to help spread the word about the Chungalunga coin for the time to come.

If you understand this big vision, and you're here for the long term, can see yourself wealthy, I'm sure you'll love other methods for marketing Chungalunga later.

Plus, there will be a point where long-term holders will be properly rewarded in a great and probably unique way.

WORD OF MOUTH

No matter what has been done in promoting one business, product, or service, regarding paid advertising and/or guerilla marketing strategies, if you want to achieve a unique worldwide success, everything comes down to...

Word of mouth.

The most powerful marketing there is.

Especially in the crypto space.

People usually listen to what their friends recommend instead of some unknown people.

No matter if is a movie in question, a book, a tv show, or a product.

We are leaning forward to listening to recommendations from our friends much rather than some stranger.

Nothing can get us further than word of mouth.

We could have thousands of Tok-ers in our Chungalunga family, pay millions in advertising on Twitter, YouTube, and TikTok, and that will help a lot.

And, yet, the real magic starts when enough open-minded people who want to decide on their own about their financial future start telling their like-minded friends to check us out.

And because of that...

I would suggest whatever we do, at any point, includes a „call to action“ where viewers/followers should start telling their friends, if they love what CL is all about, to check us out.

Together we grow.

HYPE

Chungalunga is „just“ a cryptocurrency, which you should know by now after reading the whitepaper.

That alone gives us remarkable advantage to achieve the highest possible hype at specific times.

There is no waiting for some utility or for some developers to finish the stuff they are working on to get the hype going on...

CL has a significant advantage of being „only a cryptocurrency“ since most of the growth in crypto is based purely on hype.

If you believe differently, then I'm sad to tell you that you need to learn much more about crypto markets in general.

Additional hype will be created when some marketplaces accept CL as one of the ways goods or services can be purchased there (again, read the whitepaper), and when we get listed on centralized exchanges.

When we hit market cap of $2 billion developers from the community will start working on a ecom platform/marketplace where everyone in the world will be able to sell goods and services. The only currency used will be CL. Then we will promote/sill heavily what we have done to all crypto media outlets and to big names in the industry; pure old-school outreach.

When merchants start selling on this platform they will promote their new store to all their friends, social network followers, and so on. This way we are gaining proper mainstream exposure at a fast pace.

Besides that, we can create our own plugin for WooCommerce which is used on more than 1 million stores worldwide, or/and we can work with other plugin creators to add CL as a currency in their existing WooCommerce plugins for crypto gateway payments.

Just by spreading info heavily about CL and creating hype in our Telegram + socials and everywhere else, we have the highest chance to become one of the most popular and most traded coins, comparing us with any other project with utility or „soon to have utility“.

The most important thing in the first 6 months is to get as many eyeballs on Chungalunga coin as possible and convert them to investors. Hype will then be created easily since big hype moments happen rarely and those are the ones that take projects "to the moon". It's not a daily occurrence and it's not possible to do it each day, as many project "investors" would like to see with every project.

If useless projects like Dogelon, Baby Doge Coin, SafeMoon and others can create huge army of fan boys, huge market caps, and big trading volume, together with all that hype, then the Chungalunga family can do everything much better.

My vision is that CL becomes one of the Top 20 projects on CoinMarketCap in the first three years after the launch, which is entirely achievable since only a small number of cryptocurrencies on CMC are actually used as a currency.

There is a PLENTY of room for another cryptocurrency, especially one with a lot of supporters.

Build hype.

Then – the sky is the limit.

Please note: I will not support hype in the beginning. The first goal is to grow a proactive family that aims to stay here for one of the most incredible adventures of their digital life.

Even price talks will be avoided until we reach a significant amount of members.

First things first, then the hype will come at the right time.

FAMILY EFFORTS

To be clear once again, this is a community project.

I'm just a firestarter

(read Chungalunga coin whitepaper to understand better).

And I will help where I can, have expertise and maybe some connections.

The rest is on you.

This is your own project.

You are the boss.

You are the marketing guru.

You are the best action taker.

If you believe that you know the best – simply do it (without telling anyone what you think they should do).

Do not expect someone else that it will do things for you.

I gave life to the CL, and I will organize things a bit so the project can come to the mainstream as fast as possible, but it's up to YOU, dear fam, to make this one of the best-known projects in the world.

One person can't do it. Even the most experienced crypto team can't do it.

Only YOU can.

You guys, thousands of beautiful souls who strongly believe in ONE idea.

An idea that CL is already one of the top 20 cryptocurrencies in the world.

My initial vision is that Chungalunga starts as a small project.

With less than 300 people in our community.

And...

My vision is that we attract, in the beginning, only people who can see, imagine and share the same vision as I have.

The ones who will get early in help CL grow in any way they can with a goal to get us as many new investors as possible.

It's only fair that open-minded, hardworking, and positive people with big goals for themselves get in early while the price is low and change their financial life once for good.

Three types of people make up crypto space:

1. Those who hope it happens
2. Those who watch it happen
3. Those who make it happen.

"All men dream: but not equally. Those who dream by night in the dusty recesses of their minds wake up in the day to find it was vanity, but the dreamers of the day are dangerous men, for they may act their dreams with open eyes, to make it possible."

- T. E. Lawrence

The magnificent ones.

That's how I call first Chungalunga members who share the same vision with me.

"Get your bag and shill it!"

That's the motto every CL warrior should have in their mind, speak it out loud and transfer that idea to every other potential and new CL investor.

We're going back to the old-school approach to crypto.

Simply, "Get your bag and shill it!".

Kevin Hart has this in his bio on Twitter:

It's similar with most people in crypto, especially in defi, and especially when new projects start their journey – they want to make money but not to do the work.

Hence the need to gather around the best possible family members, who will stand together and do miracles, knowing this will change everything for them.

You need only one project to make life-changing amount of money and improve your life forever.

Make Chungalunga THE ONE.

#TogetherWeGrow

LAST THOUGHTS

I think I finally understand bitcoin.

It's a silent project that operates in the background. There's no face to it. The founders created it and walked away. It's like an elegant clock set into motion that continues to tick. There's no promise of some complex protocol to come 3, 5, or 10 years down the road. It does what it's supposed to now without self promotion from the founders. Since it doesn't need self promotion to thrive, it doesn't fall victim to the vices of marketing from greedy, charismatic leaders, with overly complex projects. Sure, there's Saylor and Novogratz that sometimes fall into that role. But bitcoin doesn't need them to survive and won't need them when they die. The project works now. It does what it's supposed to and it'll continue to do what it's supposed to. It's the money of the future of our science fiction novels.

There's no Krypto Kris marketing shitty debit cards. There's no charismatic Do Kwon doing a Forbes, Steve Jobs photo shoot with a black t-shirt and a white background. There's no J Powell magically expanding the money supply with a cobol fueled wand, creating a 9 trillion USD balance sheet out of thin air.

BTC takes out the corruption of humans, because the humans that created it stepped away. Sure, people will build corrupt systems around it, but BTC itself is a simple, pure, and elegant vehicle silently ticking away in the background until the ticking becomes so loud that no one can ignore it.

Read the screenshot first.

This is my vision for the Chungalunga coin as well.

The crypto space has become toxic, and too many people are here for quick cash-grabbing opportunities (they call them „plays“, „gambles“ or „degens“).

This is not something why crypto is invented in the first place.

I will help CL to grow in the first months by using my experience in dealing with people (removing bad apples from here), with writing copy and helping our family members/tiktokers with organized marketing efforts.

After that, I will remove myself from Chungalunga. It's the only way CL will be in a position to grow huge. If some name is behind the project, its success will be significantly lower because most people want to look up to someone so they can put everything they want on others. This is a decentralized project, the crypto future should be decentralized almost completely, and we're making a big move here.

Plus, this will put a mystery about my identity to all new investors in the upcoming years which is added benefit for the project, and most of us know today that approach works very well in crypto.

I will still work on important things behind the scenes.

And maybe, just maybe, one day, we'll meet each other again (after we gain mainstream success).

It's your cryptocurrency, after all, if you have been paying attention carefully by now.

Make it one of the most popular projects in the world.

Make yourself proud. And wealthy.

Let's catch up in Dubai when that happens.

With love,

skool
